

LEARNING EXPERIENCE OVERVIEW

JA Economics for Success®

■ Work and Career Readiness ■ Financial Literacy

JA Economics for Success introduces middle school students (ages 11–14) to initial work and career readiness and personal finance concepts. Students explore career interests and opportunities and learn about financial roles and responsibilities. They learn about planning for a career, including the importance of self-awareness to guide choices, relevant post-high school education to enable those choices, and sufficient income to pay for their wants and needs. Students recognize and develop transferable skills, useful regardless of career. And they learn about the costs of expenses and setting personal financial priorities.

This learning experience is part of both the JA Work and Career Readiness Pathway and the JA Financial Literacy Pathway and can be used with students in grades 6–8. The learning experience offers 6 or more or more instructional contact hours (ICH) based on modular delivery of at least 6 of the 10 sessions. Implementation can feature a single JA Pathway, Work and Career Readiness or Financial Literacy, or a combination of both to meet local needs. Extended learning opportunities, student self-guided activities on JA Connect™, and an optional final project provide additional options.

- Engaging and interactive activities, games, and role-plays that support learning objectives
- Flexible facilitation materials including both print and digital guides to accommodate preferences and ease of use

LEARNING EXPERIENCE GOALS

By participating in JA Economics for Success, students will:

1. Develop an awareness of their individual preferences toward work and financial goals.
2. Associate current values, skills, and interests with future success in a dynamic and changing workforce.
3. Think critically to connect today's financial choices with their future in the digital economy.

PROJECT (OPTIONAL)

This optional project enables students to apply what they learned during JA Economics for Success. Students fill a virtual time capsule with entries representing each session of the program they completed. The resulting artifact is a completed time capsule. Entries can be in various formats, including documents, pictures, presentations, and other digital options.

Students may complete the project cumulatively after completing all selected sessions from the program, or they may complete the entry for each session as it is implemented. They should only create time capsule entries for the sessions they completed.

The project is self-guided, designed for students to complete individually and independently, in or out of class. They need Internet access, time, and resources to complete the project.

PROJECT AT A GLANCE

Project Entry	Overview	Objectives
My Magazine Cover (Corresponds with My Career Exploration; Work and Career Readiness)	Students create a magazine cover reflecting a career that matches their values, skills, and interests.	Students will: Create a vision of future career success that demonstrates awareness of personal skills, interests, and values.
